

or wanting to run away, if the truth must be told, to cry as he had cried in the times of torrid fights. Invariably he lost the fights and somehow felt that he was likewise to lose this.

The minister was speaking. His words fell meaningless upon poor Johnson's ears. Carola was tensely alert. She held her head high and kept her eyes fast upon the door. As the minister began to say, "if any can show cause why these two may not be lawfully joined together, let him speak now or forever hereafter," behind his pews, she drew a hard breath.

"I object!" Jack Harrison cried, darting through the door. "The lady is already my wife," he added, thrusting a folded paper into the minister's hand. Aunt Sarah struck it down, crying contemptuously: "You lie! Until today Carola had not been outside her room since I ordered you off the place!"

Jack turned to face her with Carola in his arms, limp enough now and trembling all over. "I came back—once," he said, "while you were away at church. I brought a license and a minister. Remember there is a lightning rod beside the end window of Carola's prison. I climbed it, held her hand—the good man on the ground did the rest. I might have done any day and legally demanded my wife. It was her whim to wait—and spoil your triumph."

Johnson had been listening like a man in a dream. Suddenly his face brightened. With a wildly joyous whoop he released Jack and Carola in his arms, hugged them breathless and as he gathered them cried: "Jack, you always were a good fellow. Suppose you help me to get married away. I'll give you the money if you'll persuade Peggy McMann to have me, right here and now."

"I'll take that for nothing," Carola said, running to the blushing Peggy. How she managed it nobody quite understood, but three hours later, just as soon as a messenger had brought a new license from the county town, there was a wedding with no objection—not even from Aunt Sarah—and the bride's name was Peggy.

Mansfield's "Likeness."

Richard Mansfield once asked Frank A. Nankivell to make a picture of him. The actor explained that he wanted an imitation of the old Roman coin with his own profile shown instead of Caesar's.

"Do you want an absolute likeness or shall I idealize it a bit?" asked Nankivell.

"I want an absolute likeness," replied Mr. Mansfield stiffly, and the artist made a sketch of his patron.

When the completed picture—a splendid piece of work that looks as if it were embossed on the country town—Mr. Mansfield he was not pleased.

"It looks like a pickpocket," said Mr. Mansfield.

"That is not my fault," said Nankivell. "You know that you said you wanted a likeness."

There was a further exchange of courtesies, and then Mansfield suggested that the artist try again. "Excuse me," said Nankivell. "Once will do me."

"Well, change this picture a little," said the actor. "Perhaps you can fix it up."

"Not a bit," said the artist as he rolled up the picture and prepared to go with a parting shot. "You don't want an artist to draw your picture? You want a lithographer. Good day!"—New York World.

A Barbarous Symbol.

Next time you drop in on your barber to have a shave or your hair cut ask him why he has a pole with white and red stripes (a) at his door. The chances are that he will tell you it is to let people know there is a barber shop in the vicinity. Ask him why such a pole represents a barber shop and tell him that it is a politics or the weather to you until he has answered and you will have a quiet time of it. Of course you know, but in case you don't want to bother telling him just clip this item and induce him to paste it in his hat.

In olden times blood letting was believed in and the ancient barber was the man who made a specialty of it, as also some of them do today. The pole has nothing to do with hair cutting or shaving; it represents the blood letting end of the profession. The red stripes indicate the flow of blood, the white stripes the linen bandages used after the operation. If you succeed in cornering your barber on this question, ask him not to talk so much until he acquires some information worth imparting.

At Least the Learned Man Imagined He Had Done So.

A Sunday school superintendent had invited a university professor to address the school. In his address the learned man made a number of the expression, "a syllabus of doctrine."

"I pulled his coatails," said the superintendent, "and suggested that the children might not understand the meaning of 'syllabus.' Thereupon the professor, turning to the scholars, said: "Excuse me, children, but I ought to explain the syllabus in a synonymous way with synopses."—Philadelphia Times.

Intelligence Bureau.

Carola was shown very much at fault when she trembled at a love letter. She did not even know how to read it, and she was so nervous that she could not even look at it. She was so nervous that she could not even look at it. She was so nervous that she could not even look at it.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Densha left this morning for a trip through Vermont.

—Miss Lizzie Vasele, in company with about ten other friends, is rusticated at Littlefield, Me.

—The house on Union street owned by Melvin Bates was struck by lightning Monday night, but little damage was done. Frank Stowell's house occupied by Joseph Holland on Main street was also struck Monday. The lightning struck at the corner of the house and Mr. Holland received quite a shock.

—During the shower of Monday evening the barn on Main street, belonging to B. W. Shaw of Jamaica Plain, was struck by lightning midway between two eucalypti. The barn contained a quantity of new iron, new hay, a pony, two cows, two pigs, three bicycles and all the latest farming implements. The live stock was taken out all right. By the good work of Hose 4 the house which is attached to the barn was only damaged a little on the west end. The house inside was marred quite badly by the needless removal of furniture which was in no immediate danger. After about three hours or more of hard labor the firemen had the building well under control. Mr. Shaw arrived Tuesday and estimated the loss to be between $5,000 and $6,000.

—Services will be resumed at the Union Church next Sunday.

—A lawn party will be held at the residence of John Clavin, Park avenue, Friday evening Aug. 15th.

CARDS AND CALLS.

Don't call at mealtime.

Don't use glazed or enameled cards.

Don't hand your card to your hostess.

Don't make formal calls before 3 in the afternoon.

Don't make formal calls while in deep mourning.

Don't use printed cards. The name should always be engraved.

Don't use mitts or other complimentary titles on visiting cards.

Don't bend your cards at the corners or ends; the fashion is obsolete.

Don't attempt novelty in your visiting cards either in size, form, texture or engraving.

Don't call on one of a number of "at home" days unless you have been specially invited.

Don't, if you would be fashionable, use a visiting card with your own and your husband's name engraved upon it. Separate cards are used by husband and wife.

Don't have your card engraved "Mrs. Brown" if you are the wife of a younger brother. This title belongs only to the wife of the head of the Brown family.

Don't omit the prefix. If your name is James Johnson, your visiting card should read Mr. James Johnson; if your name is Mary Jones your visiting card should bear the prefix "Miss."

E. E. Smead of New York visited Detroit recently and stepped Lord Derby, 2:30 1/4, a half in 1:58.

The black gelding, Palmyra Boy, 2:07 1/4, has been sold by J. McDonald, V. B., to Mr. Seward of Chicago.

Carriage Girl, by DeLeon, is the first mare to win the 2:10 trotting list. Her mark is 2:09 1/4, made recently at Redville.

Terrill B., the famous New England half mile track pacer, won his race at Redville and reduced his record to 2:08 1/4.

Howard Russell of Boston has returned $10,000 for his two-year-old filly, by Peter the Great, out of Fanella, by Arion.

Prince Selma, 2:10 1/4, by Bow Bell, has been sold by Bert Blank to T. H. Blinn of Detroit. Blinn has sent the horse to M. B. McIlroy.

James Turner of Paris, Ky., is the sole owner of the blind trotter Rhythmic, by Oakland Baron, dam Duchess, by Shamrock, and winner of the M. and M. at Detroit.

The Denver mare Halie Hardin, 2:10 1/4, looks like 2:10 good. She is said to be one of the handomest mares in training and will be soon at the fall horse show.

CURTAIN CALLS.

Sarah Bernhardt is studying Lady Macbeth.

Wagnalls & Kemper will manage Blanche Walsh next season.

Digby Bell has taken a country house on the shore of Buzzards Bay.

Nanette Comstock is to be Otis Skene's lady after the coming season.

"Lassaro" is to be the play.

John W. Albaugh, Jr., has been engaged for the leading part in George C. Latham's "Captain Molly."

Mosses, Stale & Wilbur have decided to build a new theater in Boston. The location is not specified.

"The Wizard of Oz," a spectacular extravaganza, has made a success at the Grand Opera House in Chicago.

Fritz Schiff is reported to have found an opera for her starring venture. It is by an unknown French composer.

"In Days of Old When Knights Were Bold" is the title of the romantic play which Walker Whitehead will star next season.

PINFATHERS.

For's best when kept in small flocks.

To have good layers one must breed from good laying stock.

Infertile eggs remain clear and will be absorbed at the end of three weeks.

When oyster shells are used, they should be broken into pieces the size of grains of corn.

When it is found that a certain hen breeds remarkably true, it will be best to keep her for a number of years.

Do not use shavings, sawdust or excelsior in the nests. If clean, dry straw cannot be readily secured, use dry forest leaves.

Guinea fow a large number of eggs, which, though small, are of good quality. Their flesh is dark and gamey, but not strong.

When a wooden floor is used in the poultry house, it should be raised at least a foot from the ground to admit a good circulation of air underneath.

GARDEN GOSSIP.

A few drops of ammonia to a pint of water sprinkled on the roots of house plants will produce an abundant growth.

The polka-dot makes an excellent garden plant, but to bring out its beauty fully it should be associated with the aster, which is almost everywhere found growing wild.

"Mistake of age" must be the watchword of the flower lover with a small garden. Bulbs and seed plants may be sown in the same place. The seeds can even be sown before the bulbs have ceased blooming.

In shady places plant heliotropes, myosotis, lilacs of the valley, and so on.

Do not use heliotropes and pansies will thrive admirably at the foot of the rosebushes or around tree trunks.

Portulaca and Geraniums will thrive in sun and sand.

Paint Your Suggery for 75c.

NEW SHORT STORIES

EAST WEYMOUTH AND WEYMOUTH CENTER.

Not a Hazy Night Actor.
A group of professional people, among whom was Thomas Q. Senbrook, were discussing Miss Frances Rawls' performance of "Camille" and her consequent engagement with Joseph Jefferson for next season.

"There is always some risk in engaging persons unfamiliar with the exigencies of an actor's life," remarked Senbrook. "Perhaps you have heard of the experience of Phelps, the eminent English tragedian. He engaged a young man from the ranks of society and gave him an important part. But really very necessary part in the production. When the curtain went up, he had not shown up, and the performance was spoiled. Next morning the young man came around to the theater smiling.

"Where were you last night, sir?" roared Phelps.

"Glad to see you, sir," replied the society recruit, "your story did not expect me to come out in such weather as we had last night. Why, it was raining cats and dogs."

Senator Dietrich's Clock.
Senator Dietrich of Nebraska was at breakfast in the Shoreham cafe with a party of friends.

"What time is it?" asked one of the party. Apparently nobody had a watch, and a motion was made to call a waiter. "Don't do that," said Senator Dietrich. "Then he reached down in his coat pocket and pulled out a big clock. It looked at it and said, 'Quarter past twelve, the clock away and went on ticking.

"For heaven's sake, Dietrich," said one of his friends, "do you always carry that alarm clock in your pocket?"

"Always," replied Dietrich. "You see, it's this way: I have so many en-

Wannamaker's Boston Trip.
John Wannamaker returned from a visit to the far east last spring and has been giving interesting opinions upon the subject of the nation's future. He is an address on "India," delivered in Philadelphia early in June, he said: "This is the month when marriage appears to be in the very air. Let me tell you, then, where to go for an ideal wedding trip. India! First, stay there three months. Spend the next two months in Burma and Java. Then cross over into the land of blossoms and babies—Japan. In that way you will have given your wife a chance to get acquainted with you, while you have stood before backgrounds absolutely the most alluring in the world. If she is ever to learn to admire you, it will be under these conditions.

Then there was a moment's pause. Then the great merchant, realizing perhaps how useless was such advice to the average young man, smiled and continued, "There is a possibility of a wedding trip to all of this, such a trip would cost a good deal of money, so if you feel that you cannot afford it, perhaps you had better decide to spend Sunday at Niagara."—Baltimore Morning Herald.

He Didn't Mean It.
Representative P. H. Gillett of Massachusetts was presiding over the committee of the whole house today, and the congressman was unusually turbulent and unruly. The speakers could not make themselves heard, and Gillett used the gavel and his hammer to get the members to listen. "The members must sit down in the aisles."

Immediately the house burst into a roar of laughter. Mr. Gillett could not understand what had caused the merriment and finally, called, "Cham Clark, who happened near the speaker's desk, he came up and explained what was the matter.

"Why, you told the members to sit down in the aisles," said Clark. "and now you are laughing at them. You'll not be able to appear in Massachusetts society for two years at least."

"Oh, I see!" said Gillett seriously. "What I intended to say was that the members in the aisles should take their seats."

High Standard of Trade.
"Trous!" exclaimed the observant person. "Well, I should say so! He's as proud as a country boy writing his first letter on hotel stationery."—Los Angeles Herald.

Canaries.
Canaries, which were originally green and gray in color, were native to the islands from which they take their name, and were first taken to England on ships plying between English ports and the south of France. From this stock have been derived a number of distinct varieties.

Queensland.
Queensland has at least one-half of its territory under the tropics.

Japanese Dolls.
Japanese dolls are usually most elaborate and costly, and are for the primary and secondary school children. The dolls are made of wood and are dressed in the latest fashions. The dolls are often beautifully carved and enameled.

Fruit and Poultry.
Fruit growing and poultry raising may be made joint occupations, the one being more or less beneficial to the other.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH

Dr. R. H. Granger returned Wednesday from Philadelphia, where he has been devoting his time to special study.

Miss Clara Barstow of Marshfield has been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Sprague.

Mrs. C. F. Hammett of Front street is visiting her father, Charles F. Hammett, of Topeka, Kansas.

Miss Rachel Hawes is enjoying a two weeks' vacation from her duties as bookkeeper at the Boston Shoe Co.

Miss Grace Wheeler has returned from a visit with friends at West Stockbridge, Mass.

Hose 4 and 5 held their regular monthly meeting last evening.

Frank Lord of Cleveland, Ohio, is making a visit with friends in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cummings entertained about twenty friends at their home Friday evening. At 7 o'clock the party partook of a very fine banquet prepared by the hostess for the occasion. The remainder of the evening was spent with a card and music.

Miss Lena Bayley is spending a two weeks' vacation with friends in Maine.

Frank E. Lord has secured a position at L. A. Crossfield's factory, North Abington.

A number of friends gave a surprise party to Mrs. A. F. Holbrook, Tuesday evening. The evening passed pleasantly with whist, piano solos by Mrs. Nettie Pero and vocal solos by William Allen and Ernest Stetson.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Monroe and family who are at Austin Dean's cottage at Green Harbor, are entertaining Masters James and George Monroe of Mill street.

F. Wilbur Lord is filling a five week's engagement at Charles River park with his $20.00 production of "Valse or The Destruction of St. Pierre."

Howard Belcher is at home for a few days.

A party of eight left Wednesday for a trip through Fairhaven returning by way of Orono.

Mrs. B. H. Deas is on a trip to New York.

Before returning she will visit her son Charles.

The Norfolk baseball team are again the winners. The Cochato team lost at South Weymouth Saturday to the home team making the games won, even. The old game will be played Saturday, which will distinguish the championship at base ball. Both sides played steadily, but South's win in the box was far more than that of the other.

Two base hit, Bayley; three base hit, H. Barrett; first base on balls, off of Lord; Arnold and Dow struck by Lord 10, by Arnold and Dow 0. Umpire, H. Howe. Time, 2 hours.

Mrs. Carrie Yates is making a short visit with friends in town.

Pin Collins left Tuesday with a number of horses, for Vermont.

The Crismons on a hay cart ride this evening.

Miss Helen Bass and Lottie Baker returned Wednesday from a two weeks' trip to New York City and Albany.

M. O'Dwyer, proprietor of the popular tonorial parlor in Columbian square, will start Monday on a two weeks' vacation.

The Ward Nine Jesters defeated the Home team at base ball two games Saturday, 8 to 7; Thursday 9 to 3.

Miss Kate Roche and sister of Park avenue left Saturday for a two weeks' visit to relatives in New Rochelle, New York.

HEARD AND READ

What three know everybody knows.

When we deserve it, we don't mind abuse. It makes us careful. But the trouble is we never agree with our critics as to when we deserve it.—Athenian Globe.

PORTER

About fifty friends of Mrs. Herbert Lane, representing Hingham and Porters, enjoyed an outing at her home on Washington street, last Friday.

Mrs. Fred Stockbridge of Somerville is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bates this week.

Miss Kate Rathbone is enjoying a short visit with relatives in Cambridge.

Misses Ada Townsend and Emma Rice, held a successful lawn party in the yard of the Porter M. E. church last Friday evening.

Augustus Richards has rented and is occupying the Lovell estate near the church.

Misses Nellie Holbrook, Florence Pratt, Maria and Rachael Hawes, are on a two weeks' trip in the White Mountains, stopping at Maple Villa, Intervale, N. H.

Miss Joseph Howley has returned after a brief visit with friends in Rockland.

While connecting wires on a car, Thomas Quinn received quite a shock last Wednesday, rendering him unconscious for about a hour.

The Warblertons were defeated by the Nash A. A. team at the picnic last Saturday on the Fair grounds. Nash A. A. had Hawes of Porter A. A. in the box for their team, while the Warblertons played its regular team.

It is rumored that a game is to be played between the employees of Weymouth and Rockland divisions of the Old Colony Street Railway Co. on the Porter A. A. grounds next Tuesday afternoon. A hot game can be looked for, as Manager "Pip" French is doing lots of hustling for the same.

W. Porter Pratt is spending his vacation at Cottage City.

Mrs. Stephen Webb and Miss Ethel Hunt made a short visit with friends at Silver Lake last Saturday.

Herbert Julian Wadsworth of Brockton, is to supply the pulpit of the Porter M. E. church next Sunday afternoon. Service begins at 2.30 p. m. A full house is expected, as Mr. Wadsworth has many friends in Weymouth, and this will be a good opportunity to see and hear one who is making a place for himself in religious circles.

Charles Cudworth is working with Thayer, the Rockland team.

Miss William French entertained a large family gathering at her home on Washington street, last Thursday.

P. A. A. Notes.

Porter A. A. were disappointed in their game last Saturday, as a hot game was expected. Friday night it was learned that Waverly A. A. who were to play, had disbanded and could not play.

Porter A. A. were well represented in their game last Saturday, as they had no game at home. Drayton and Blaisdell played with East Weymouth at Ridge Hill, while Gibson was behind the bat for South Weymouth at South Weymouth.

Next Saturday, the crack Arlington team is to battle with Porter A. A. This team is in the same class as the Arlington team, which played such a great game with Porter A. A. quite recently. Therefore, the ball playing of the season will surely be seen next Saturday.

corps of helpers, was in charge of a very pleasant outing at Oak Grove on Tuesday, Aug. 12. Some sixty people of the Universalist society with friends were present, and although the atmosphere was a little cool, and the elements strong a fine time was had. A delicious clam chowder connected by Miss Clara Beals and Mrs. H. H. Whiting was served at 5.30, also cake, pastry, fruit and lemonade. At 8.30 the party broke up, with many cheers and good wishes for Miss Beals for the good time they had enjoyed.

A Generous Gift.
At an adjourned meeting of the Third Universalist parish held Wednesday evening, the parish were presented with a new church organ, to be built according to specifications adapted especially to their chapel.

The generous donors are Mr. E. Frank Beals of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Elizabeth B. Pratt of this place, and the organ will be given as a memorial to the late Mrs. Beals and his wife, Mrs. T. Beals from their children.

This beautiful and serviceable gift will stand as a memorial of the interest and generosity of the children as well as that of the parents who did so much for the local church during life, and endowed it with their money.

In order to make room for the new organ, it will be necessary to enlarge the church, and a fund of six hundred dollars has been raised by subscription to do this work, so that the organ will be put in place and attached to a water motor, ready for use, leaving the parish entirely free from debt.

A committee consisting of Mr. W. Bartlett, H. H. Whiting, Mrs. H. H. Whiting and Miss Clara E. Beals was appointed to act with the donors in deciding upon specifications and placing the contract.

The parish committee, with Mrs. J. H. Pratt and E. H. Sampson, were chosen as a committee to contract for the alterations to the building.

The gift was accepted with a ringing vote of thanks, and H. Walker Pratt, Mabel S. Robinson, and James H. French were appointed to draft suitable resolutions.

Weymouth Heights

Mrs. E. Lambert and daughter May of Manchester are the guests of Mrs. Lambert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hunt and son of Melrose, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hunt.

Several from this village enjoyed an outing at Norwaga Park one day last week.

Master George Dicknell celebrated his tenth birthday at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hicknell on Saturday, Aug. 2. About 25 were present. A clam chowder supper was served at 5.30. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hunt and son of Melrose and Dr. Charles Putnam and family.

C. H. Bolles and wife of New York are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bolles.

Miss Lucy E. Humphrey gave a party in honor of her thirteenth birthday at the residence of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Humphrey. About thirty relatives and friends were present. The afternoon was spent in a social manner. Refreshments were served at 5.30. The company broke up about 6 o'clock wishing the hostess many happy returns of the day.

George Webb has been spending a week at Orono.

NORFOLK COUNTY.

The new car shop property of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road, within the limits of Hyde Park, is assessed for $267,000, which helps out the tax rate of that town.

The largest granite base ever placed on a car, was shipped from the Quincy Adams station last week. The finished stone was, and is ten feet six inches wide and fourteen feet long; the stone is for Woodlawn cemetery, New York.

As a special town meeting held last week, Needham voted to issue bonds to pay its Metropolitan Park assessment for 1900 and 1901.

The assessors of Hyde Park find for the current year an increase of $850,700 on land and personal estate.

We have nearly everything now, or soon will have, that other towns around greater Boston have and should now, as a halt until we can afford to pay our bills as we go—Needham Recorder.

The menest that we have heard of is the one who stole ribbons left on floral tributes at graves in Pond cemetery, Braintree.

Miss Nellie A. Park of East Walpole met with a fatal accident last week. While riding with her brother, the horse shied and came in collision with an electric car, throwing both occupants into the car and Miss Park sustained injuries from which she died in a few moments.

While walking on the railroad track at Quincy on Saturday, Walter West was struck by a train and shortly died from his injuries.

The police of Dedham are devoting special attention to Sunday play, of which there has been much complaint in that town.

Master tasters and men at Quincy have come together, all difficulties are settled and harmony prevails.

Day and night forces, for five days in the week, are employed at the Franklin Yarn Co.'s mill in order to keep up with the rush of business.

More than 200 descendants of John Fairfield, who settled in Dedham in 1636, assembled at the old house, which has stood for more than 250 years, on Wednesday last in the reunion which was a great success.

"I had a proposal last night and refused it."

—An always thinking of the welfare of others, aren't you, dear?—Ohio State Journal.

Young laboring men looking at the large houses and wealthy surroundings of aged capitalists can, by a few moments' thought, convince themselves that in such and such a way they have property easily made valuable.

Fortunate is the man who thinks he has married an angel if she only turns out to be a good cook instead.—Chicago Daily News.

There is no question that the trusts oppress people sometimes, but you know that wouldn't keep you from buying stock in one if you could get it cheap enough.

The principal feature was the great juggling when the "Kings of the Herding Flocks" as the Rockland players called him struck out Weymouth Division won by a large score.

—Miss Mary McDonald of Quincy is visiting her friend, Josie Howell of this place.

—Porter A. A. defeated the Medford last Saturday by a score of 12 to 11. Medford scored only in the 5th and 8th innings on costly errors and a few hits, leading the Porter A. A. until the 9th inning. Dryden pitched a great game, allowing only one hit up until the 8th inning when Medford bunched four more, while he struck out nine of the visitors and obtained four hits with a total of six bases: Porter A. A. received eleven hits.

—As practically the base ball season closes Labor Day with Porter A. A. at least on the home grounds, no better drawing card could be made up to close the season in a more fitting manner and in a way that would insure a hot and exciting finish than in battle for supremacy with the strong Highland A. A. team which has been thoroughly strengthened since its game with Porter A. A. the first of the season, and smarting over its defeat at that time means to use the often expressed expression, "a blood game," for next Saturday, while Labor Day, at 10 o'clock the fast Arlington team, which played such a superb game two weeks ago with Porter A. A. and lost their game by a hit throw in the 9th inning by a score of four to three will meet their opponents again at the game of ball has not been seen in Weymouth for years than that game, therefore Porter A. A. have got to play their limit to win, and win, each player says, they are going to.

"You got the worst of it that horse race," said the friend.

"Yes," answered Farmer Cornsweat.

"I suppose it makes you angry every time you see the horse."

"No. I like to look at him. It gives me a good deal of satisfaction to think of him going to do the other fellow in the next race."—Washington Star.

Kind looks, kind words, kind acts and warm hand shakes—these are secondary means of grace when men are in trouble and are fighting their unseen battles.—Dr. John Hall.

"You got the worst of it that horse race," said the friend.

"Yes," answered Farmer Cornsweat.

"I suppose it makes you angry every time you see the horse."

"No. I like to look at him. It gives me a good deal of satisfaction to think of him going to do the other fellow in the next race."—Washington Star.

Kind looks, kind words, kind acts and warm hand shakes—these are secondary means of grace when men are in trouble and are fighting their unseen battles.—Dr. John Hall.

"These would-be smart sayings about doctors and death make me tired. There's no relation between them."

"No?"

"Certainly not. Death only makes one visit to settle the matter."—Philadelphia North American.

PORTER

—Miss Annie McCarthy of Lynn is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collier.

—Lester Bates is enjoying a short vacation with friends in New Hampshire.

—Miss E. Foster of North Braintree, who supplied the M. E. Church, pulpit last Sunday, is to preach again next Sunday afternoon.

—John E. Inkley has lately purchased a valuable horse.

—Misses Helen, Nellie Holbrook and Rachel Haines returned after a most pleasant outing at the White Mountains last Saturday.

—John Shaw attended the annual reunion of the Orent family at Abington this Saturday. Little Carrie Holbrook of this place, in her readings and songs, was one of the principal attractions and was repeatedly encored.

—Miss Taft formerly principal of the Pratt School has been renewing acquaintances here this week.

—Blanche Hutchinson has been visiting friends in East Boston.

—Josie Howell is riding a new bicycle, the gift of her parents.

—Russell Poole made a hasty visit with relatives in Hanson, Wednesday.

—Miss A. L. held their regular monthly business meeting last Monday night.

—The long looked for ball game between the employees of the Rockland and the Highland Park, took place Wednesday afternoon on the Porter A. A. grounds. It was a game composed wholly of excitement from start to finish. The principal feature was the great juggling when the "Kings of the Herding Flocks" as the Rockland players called him struck out Weymouth Division won by a large score.

—Miss Mary McDonald of Quincy is visiting her friend, Josie Howell of this place.

—Porter A. A. defeated the Medford last Saturday by a score of 12 to 11. Medford scored only in the 5th and 8th innings on costly errors and a few hits, leading the Porter A. A. until the 9th inning. Dryden pitched a great game, allowing only one hit up until the 8th inning when Medford bunched four more, while he struck out nine of the visitors and obtained four hits with a total of six bases: Porter A. A. received eleven hits.

—As practically the base ball season closes Labor Day with Porter A. A. at least on the home grounds, no better drawing card could be made up to close the season in a more fitting manner and in a way that would insure a hot and exciting finish than in battle for supremacy with the strong Highland A. A. team which has been thoroughly strengthened since its game with Porter A.
